

Becoming a Freelancer

Incluzion is an online human capital marketplace designed to increase the talent pipeline for freelance professionals of color and women freelance professionals.

You're graduating without a job.

An AfterCollege.com study indicates 83% of college students don't have a job lined up before graduation. More and more are weighing the option of freelancing after graduating from college and coding bootcamps.

Hiring in the US is changing.

According to a Randstad USA study, employers expect 69 percent of their workforces to be freelance talent by that 2025. That means less workers with job titles and more freelance professionals will be hired

KEY BENEFITS

-  Earn money while looking for employment
-  Build a portfolio to leverage towards future employment
-  Build layoff-proof skills that ensure flexibility
-  Join the part of the workforce that will be in majority by 2027

Through our diverse talent marketplace, Incluzion freelancers have more opportunities to flex their skills!

How it works

Sign up as a freelancer, complete your profile, and submit it to Incluzion for approval

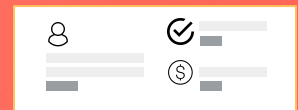

You'll begin receiving requests for quotes to your email from companies looking for your skills

Review the biz-related tasks posted on Incluzion. Submit quotes and communicate with clients

Once a task is awarded, send files, complete milestones and receive payment within the marketplace

Get Started!

Post your skills by signing up or get in touch with our Freelancer sales team.

Learn More